A.2 — PYQ-book-only facts

Most 2024-2025 award-cycle facts (Padma 2025 list — Shobana Chandrakumar Pillai, P.R. Sreejesh, Anil Kumar Boro, Lavjibhai Nagjibhai Parmar/Tangaliya weaving; Dadasaheb Phalke 2022 — Mithun Chakraborty; Aryabhata Award 2024 — Subba Rao Pavuluri; Bharat Ratna 2024 batch) are recent-events current-affairs not present in the raw extraction's Lucent-2026-edition tables (which stop at 2023 for Jnanpith and similar lists) — sourced to the PYQ book's own explanations, consistent with the raw extraction's own recent-events caution flags. Additionally PYQ-book-only, not a recency gap but a scope gap (the raw extraction's award tables are India-focused and do not carry this level of detail on individual film/pageant/literature personalities or non-Indian Booker/Pulitzer novels): Tribhuvandas Patel/Kaira Milk Union naming, the full name "Shanti Swarup Bhatnagar" and Asima Chatterjee as its first female recipient (the raw extraction has only the bare "Bhatnagar Award" line), France's Legion of Honour to Narendra Modi, Uttam Kumar/Antony Firingee/Chiriyakhana, the Moscow International Film Festival/Suchitra Sen/Saat Paake Bandha detail, the Miss World winner list (Manushi Chhillar, Aishwarya Rai, Diana Hayden, Yukta Mookhey), Nobel Literature detail for Toni Morrison/Jon Fosse/Annie Ernaux, Booker detail for Marieke Lucas Rijneveld/The Discomfort of Evening, Pulitzer detail for Colson Whitehead/The Nickel Boys/The Underground Railroad, the PEN Pinter Prize/Tsitsi Dangarembga, and the Nobel Economics tie-in Why Nations Fail/Daron Acemoglu/James Robinson and the unrelated The Joy Luck Club/Amy Tan reference.

A.3 — Doubts carried forward from the raw extraction

The raw extraction flags a genuine count discrepancy: Parmar states "53 Bharat Ratna recipients as of 2024" while Lucent's own printed table sums to 56 names — not reconciled, not tested in this PYQ batch. Jnanpith's cash prize is printed as ₹11 lakh in Parmar vs ₹21 lakh in Lucent — a cross-book value conflict, not tested here.
