7 Cross-cutting Traps

TRAP A Suitable Boy = Vikram Seth ★, NOT Khushwant Singh (repeatedly tested exclusion). Panchatantra = Vishnu Sharma ★, not Bhasa/Kalidasa/Dandin. Gitanjali = Tagore ★, not C. Rajagopalachari/R.K. Narayan/Sarojini Naidu.

TRAP Amartya Sen's Nobel was in Economics (1998), NOT Literature ★ — a repeatedly tested distractor for "The Argumentative Indian"/"Development as Freedom" questions. He also received Bharat Ratna (1999) ★.

DOUBT "Sahela Re" is attributed to Mrinal Pande in one PYQ (translated to English by Priyanka Sarkar) ★ but the raw extraction's Parmar list (A.4, p.484) prints "Mrinal Pande — Sahela Re" too, consistent — however a separate PYQ line also mentions Sunil Gangopadhyay in the same explanation block due to adjacent OCR text; treated as Mrinal Pande's book per both the PYQ answer key and the raw extraction, not resolved further.

Coverage: all questions in bucket 03 are represented above or in-body. Some very recent/niche books (The War That Made R&AW, India's Revolutionary Inheritance, Negotiating Mughal Law, Bonkers!, Heart: A History, The Neeraj Chopra Story, School to Startup, Because Words Matter, Landscapes of Loss, Madam President, Being Indian's award, and several 2023–2025 releases) are current-affairs items not present in the Parmar/Lucent raw extraction — see A.2.

A.2 — PYQ-book-only facts (not in the raw extraction)

- Recent/niche non-fiction and current-affairs books published 2019–2025 (The War That Made R&AW, India's Revolutionary Inheritance, Negotiating Mughal Law, Bonkers!, Heart: A History, The Neeraj Chopra Story, School to Startup, Because Words Matter, Landscapes of Loss, Madam President, The Tatas, Being Indian's Vodafone Crossword award, Heart Lamp's 2025 International Booker, Tomb of Sand's 2022 International Booker and translator Daisy Rockwell) are not in the raw extraction (built from 2026-edition Parmar/Lucent, which predate or omit these) — sourced entirely to the PYQ book's own explanations.
- Specific award/statement details for Sleeping on Jupiter (2015 Booker longlist), Half the Night is Gone (2019 DSC Prize), Chronicle of a Corpse Bearer (2015 Sahitya Akademi), and Cyrus Mistry's Parsi-community theme are PYQ-book explanations not printed in the raw extraction's bare author-title tables.
- "Shame" as a Salman Rushdie novel and "The Private Life of an Indian Prince" as a Mulk Raj Anand novel are PYQ-book-only titles — the raw extraction's own author lists (Parmar A.5, A.2) don't carry either title. The setting detail "Aymanam, Kerala" for The God of Small Things and the "Ramaini" component of Kabir's Bijak are PYQ-book explanatory detail beyond the raw extraction's bare title lists.

A.3 — Doubts carried forward from the raw extraction

Booker-prize year claims are inconsistent across the raw extraction's own sources: Parmar prints "The Promise (Booker Prize 2024)" for a book that (per general knowledge, unverified here) won in 2021, and "Clear Light of Day (Booker Prize 1980)" for a novel that was only shortlisted — both flagged $\triangle$ in the raw extraction, not resolved, and not directly tested in this PYQ batch. "Swami Vivekananda in the West: New Discoveries" is attributed to Marie Louise Burke (Parmar) vs. "Sister Gargi" (Lucent) — her monastic name, not a contradiction but worth knowing both.
